

What You Can Do During Women's Leadership Month

- Find a mentor
- Expand your knowledge with a course or a book
- Ask for a promotion
- Get a new job
- Make your case for a raise
- Mentor someone
- Volunteer for a good cause or group
- Nominate someone for a nonprofit board position
- Buy a little girl a Rosie Revere Engineer doll
- Read stories about impressive women to children

#advancingwomenjanuary

What You Can Do During Women's Leadership Month

- Bring a junior woman in your office to an important meeting
- Speak publicly on a significant topic
- Update your resume / LinkedIn profile
- Ask for feedback from your boss
- Nominate a woman for a leadership award
- Form learning partnerships that become mentoring opportunities
- Invite junior women in your office to a networking event
- Share posts on women's leadership on social media
- Encourage a friend to ask for a raise

#advancingwomenjanuary

What You Can Do During Women's Leadership Month

- Participate in the Boston Women's March for America on Jan 21
- Go to Washington to join the Women's March for America
- Take your daughter to work
- Wear a white pantsuit
- Help young girls start a girl power library
- Host a movie night of films with strong women leads
- Connect one pair of strong, dynamic women per month
- Help a friend rehearse a challenging negotiation
- Host a get-together for women who would benefit by getting to know each other

#advancingwomenjanuary

